

THIRDS KILLED IN IRISH CONFLICT
Fain Activities Rendered Age-Old Situation Acute
MILLIONS IN PROPERTY LOST

Washington, July 9.—(By A. P.)—Money in circulation in the United States July 1 amounted to $53.42 per capita of population, according to a statement by the Treasury. The total was $5,774,065,000. A year ago the per capita amount was $57.18 and the total $6,084,854,000. The reduction was brought about through the decreased issue of Federal Reserve bank notes.

The "irrepressible conflict" between Ireland and England has been the theme of historians, of political economists, of philosophers and bard through hundreds of years. "Rising" that marked the latter days of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth, the "Fenian" insurrections, the Home Rule agitation, the Land League movement and scores of similar activities on the part of a large section of the Irish people; the "coercion" measures that have, from time to time, been applied by unduly British Governments to crush rebellion have been of frequent recurrence and the fruitful theme of discussion and of variant legislation.

In recent years, more particularly since the conclusion of the World War, the Irish situation has been especially acute, made so by the activities of the Sinn Fein, a movement begun by irremediable who rejected any other settlement than complete independence for Ireland, and since 1919 accounts of hostilities of varied sort have filled the columns of the newspapers from day to day. For a considerable time have been quartered in turbulent parts of the island.

According to an official British report 261 persons had been killed and 446 wounded in Ireland in 1920. The report did not include eighty-two civilians slain during the rioting in Ulster from June to September, 1920.

The official report divided the casualties as follows: Policemen killed, 153; wounded, 225; soldiers killed, 53; wounded, 118; civilians killed, 42; wounded, 103. The report added that all the civilians had been killed by Sinn Feiners.

As regards property damage and raids, the report gives these figures: Court houses destroyed, 68; Royal Irish Constabulary barracks destroyed, 508; damaged, 130; raids on mails, 598; raids on coast guard stations and light-houses, 46; raids on farms, 2801; raids on revenue officers, 119.

A report issued last March by Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, said forty-nine persons had been killed while trying to escape from custody, 2073 were interned and 853 were jailed.

The report of the commission of the Committee of One Hundred which went to Ireland to make an investigation declared hundreds of persons had been killed by Crown forces and immense property damage done, but no specific figures on either score were given.

Press despatches from Ireland since January 1 have reported that thousands have been killed and wounded in fighting, although no official estimates are obtainable from either side. The property damage since the active uprising started is estimated at up to $100,000,000, the Cork fire of December 12, 1920, alone having caused destruction conservatively estimated at $15,000,000.

GUARDSMEN REACH MT. GREINA CAMP
3000 Men From Scranton and Western Pennsylvania Arrive
TRAIN BY BLOCK SYSTEM

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger
Camp Brigadier General Edward Sigsbee, Mt. Gretna, Pa., July 9.—The military reservation here became a tented city of soldiers with the arrival of the 10th and 11th Regiments of the 5th Infantry Brigade, comprising 3000 guardsmen from the Scranton district and the western part of the State. These guardsmen will undergo their annual fifteen-day tour of military instruction at the "block" system of training which works so effectively in overseas camps. This will be used for the first time at a National Guard encampment. They will be here during the first period of the six weeks' encampment, the training this year being divided into three periods because of the amount of ground necessary for a thorough use of the "block" system.

The western units under the command of Colonel Edward Martin of Waynesburg, were the first units to reach the camp. They arrived in two sections, the first of which rolled into the station at 8:30 o'clock this morning. The 11th embraces companies from Monongahela, Greensburg, Waynesburg, Somerset and surrounding towns.

The sections carrying the members of the 10th Regiment, commanded by Robert M. Vall, of Wilkes-Barre, detained shortly after 9 o'clock. The 10th is composed of eleven units from Scranton and several from Honesdale and Berwick.

There will be no Philadelphia troops under canvas until the second period of the encampment, which will begin July 23.

HOWAT NOT GUILTY OF ANY WRONG, JURORS DECLARE
Condemn Kansas Law Under Which They Convicted Miners
Columbus, Kan., July 9.—(By A. P.)—The Kansas law which sentenced Arthur Howat and August Dorchy, mine union leaders, to six months in jail for violation of the Kansas industrial law by calling a strike, overruled a motion for a new trial, although it was supported by an affidavit signed by eleven of the jurors.

The affidavit appended to the motion says the reason that verdict of guilty was rendered because the jurors had sworn to be governed by the law as set forth in the Court's instructions and the evidence, and that had it not been for the law as given in the Court's instructions not one of the jurors would have made a finding that the defendants had done wrong.

U. S. WILL DEMAND OPEN DOOR IN CHINA
Hay's Policy to Be Continued, Secretary Hughes Informs Oriental Republic
SPECIAL RIGHTS OPPOSED

Washington, July 9.—Extremely important in its relations to the diplomatic moves which are now being made with the Far East as the board of play was yesterday's announcement by Secretary Hughes that the United States continues to regard the open door policy enunciated by John Hay as a "fundamental principle of our foreign policy."

The opportunity for that outspoken declaration was given Mr. Hughes through the mouth of a query addressed to him by the Chinese Government on June 9 asking whether the United States intended to support the contract entered into between the Federal Telegraph Co. and the Chinese Government despite the opposition of three foreign powers, Great Britain, Japan and Denmark. The reply sent July 1 was as follows:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of June 9, and in reply to assure you that it is not the intention of this Government to withdraw from the position hitherto taken by it in support of the rights accruing to the Federal Telegraph Co. under the contract of January 8 last. In my view, the communication which it has received from the other interested Governments in reply to its inquiries as to the reasons for their opposition to the Chinese authorities against that contract tends only to confirm this Government in its belief that the adverse claims which have been urged, excluding the Federal Telegraph Co. from participating with the Chinese Government in establishing wireless communications are founded upon assertions of monopolist or preferential rights in the field of Chinese governmental enterprise which cannot be reconciled either with the treaty rights of American citizens in China or with the principle of the open door."

"Your reference to the principle of the open door affords me the opportunity to assure you of this Government's continuance in its whole-hearted support of that principle, which it has traditionally regarded as fundamental both to the interests of China itself and to the common interests of the Powers in China, and indispensable to the free and peaceful development of their commerce on the Pacific Ocean.

A UNIQUE PLAN OF REGULAR SAVING
Recently we heard of a thrifty housewife's unusual plan of weekly saving. She had separate envelopes for each expense—table, clothing, recreation, etc., including her savings deposit.

Every payday she put the allotted sum in its proper envelope and never overspent the amount. This systematic method allowed her to save many an extra dollar that would otherwise have slipped through her fingers. Perhaps this suggestion may help you.
